Frontend / Fullstack Engineer

Searching for a Frontend / Fullstack Engineer long-term contractor to work from home in the Medellin Colombia area! Please submit your CV/Resumé in English, thank you!

Do you thrive on pushing the boundaries of frontend and fullstack development, fearlessly diving into the depths of technologies like JavaScript/TypeScript, CSS, and Vue.js? Are you the kind of engineer who scoffs at mundane user interfaces, craving the adrenaline rush that comes from crafting jaw-dropping experiences that leave users in awe? If you possess an unyielding drive to disrupt the status quo, fearlessly wielding your code to create stunning visual masterpieces and unparalleled functionality, then you have the audacious spirit required to raise the bar as one of our Frontend/Fullstack Engineers! Come work with our team to design and develop intuitive, elegant and responsive web applications for the Linqia Platform!

Responsibilities

Implement new user-facing features in the Linqia Platform.

Translate conceptual ideas (business needs and user goals) into intuitive and engaging experiences

Collaborate with back-end, product, design, and QA teams on a daily basis to define UI and UX strategy and to ensure a smooth user experience

Write thoroughly tested features, actively participate in code reviews, and take ownership of the code base

Qualifications

BS degree in Computer Science or a similar technical area of study or equivalent practical experience

Web Development: HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript with TypeScript, Vue.js, Vuex, and Webpack

Strong JavaScript skills, with development experience in scripting languages such as Python

Front-end experience working in an Agile environment

Experience with Git and Github

Good understanding of Relational Databases/REST API(s)

Nice to Have

Postgraduate degree in CS or further education or experience in computer science or another technical related field

Experience working in AWS or similar cloud infrastructure

Proficiency in building microservices with Python

You'll Grow at Linqia
