Company: Dev.Pro

Location: Bogotá

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Are you in Colombia, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, or Costa Rica? Join us as we actively recruit in these locations, offering a comfortable remote environment. Submit your CV in English, and we'll get back to you! We invite a talented, proactive, and motivated Software Engineer with extensive Java experience and a background in team leadership to join our team. You'll help us plan and implement the integration of large-scale products in the POS domain aimed at delivering the most value to end-users and providing new opportunities for clients.

What's in it for you:

Join a well-established enterprise project serving the needs of globally recognized retail clients

Work with a diverse and modern tech stack (Java 17, Kotlin, MySQL, GCP, Kubernetes, etc.)

Boost your cloud skills and complete personalized training in GCP

Is that you?

5+ years of experience in software development and engineering

Proficiency in Java development, including foundational knowledge of Java Core and JVM

Strong SQL skills and MySQL experience

Proficiency in Linux, including basic commands and shell scripting

Profound understanding of software architecture, design patterns, and system structures

Version control tools knowledge

Debugging and troubleshooting experience

Effective communication, collaboration, facilitation, and team management skills

Robust problem-solving skills

Upper-Intermediate English level

Desirable:

Familiarity with cloud platforms and services (preferably GCP)

Knowledge of orchestration and containerization tools (Docker, Kubernetes)

Key responsibilities and your contribution

In this role, you'll combine development tasks with leadership responsibilities. You'll be in charge of new project integrations, manage feature development and support, and drive effective teamwork.

Lead project integrations and support existing ones

Develop and maintain Java applications

Write efficient, scalable, and maintainable code

Create or update documentation for development efforts (design documents, diagrams, and implementation/deployment instructions)

Review code for adherence to acceptance criteria

Analyze and resolve technical and application issues

Participate in and facilitate team ceremonies (planning, grooming, demos, and retrospectives)
